

THE NORTHERN NECK

ENORMOUS CATCHES OF FINE FISH IN THE POTOMAC.

Ex-Convict Bradshaw Again Roaming at Large a Terror to the People—Entered Services in King George.

COMON, KING GEORGE COUNTY, VA., March 24.—(Special)—For two weeks past the Potomac fishers have made the most enormous "catches" of extra-ordinary fish. A number of poor laboring men engaged in the business have already realized snug sums to far as "rainy day."

George H. Bradshaw arrived here this week from the Richmond penitentiary, and is again "roaming at large"—terror to the whole population. Bradshaw has been a notorious character in this county for many years, and when he first came to the trouble he landed in the penitentiary there were several residents here. It is hard to say how he has been in the county more than any other person, and that he has given over people more trouble and annoyance than any other individual did.

A BROCHURE FROM MISS KEMPER. — STAMFORD'S Religious, Social, Political, and Personal Notes of the Past Week.

STAMFORD, VA., March 23.—(Special) The Presbyterian Missions Committee has ordered it to be published for distribution in the parishes of the well-known Stamford congregation.

Colonel Robert Cartlett is in Charlotte county on legal business.

Miss Maggie Gandy, of "Liberty

Home," was born in Baltimore. Mrs. Nettie Irwin, of Wesleyan Female Institute, of Stamford, is here spending Easter with her parents.

Spring examinations are now in progress at the Washington and Lee University.

A BROCHURE FROM MISS KEMPER.

STAMFORD, VA., March 23.—(Special)

WILLIAM Cooper was to-day elected general secretary of the Raleigh Young Men's Christian Association. He is a native of this city.

Mr. Phil. H. Andrews is to be chief clerk to Mr. Charles M. Buske, who will in a few days take charge of the Raleigh post-office.

The Congregational Church has chosen as the subject for the inter-collegiate debate at the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly: "Is education a curse or a blessing?"

The Misses Mabel and Lily Money, daughters of Hon. H. D. Money, of Stamford, arrived here this morning.

Mrs. Howe Millington, the young woman who was so long confined to bed-sick, languished, was several days since taken to the asylum—a veritable object of pity. Just before he left the proceeds of a match in some unknown manner, and met the jail on fire. For days past he has had no time to attend his piece of clothing, except to protect his body from cold and exposure and this in the presence of the county officials. This in Mr. Millington's mind.

LIVED THE "WHITE-HOUSE."

The "White House," the last residence of the man who was so long confined to bed-sick, languished, was several days since taken to the asylum—a veritable object of pity. Just before he left the proceeds of a match in some unknown manner, and met the jail on fire. For days past he has had no time to attend his piece of clothing, except to protect his body from cold and exposure and this in the presence of the county officials. This in Mr. Millington's mind.

ONE THIRD TRIP.

Mr. Howe Millington, the young woman who was so long confined to bed-sick, languished, was several days since taken to the asylum—a veritable object of pity. Just before he left the proceeds of a match in some unknown manner, and met the jail on fire. For days past he has had no time to attend his piece of clothing, except to protect his body from cold and exposure and this in the presence of the county officials. This in Mr. Millington's mind.

The Right Rev. Alfred Magill Randolph will preach and administer the sacrament of confirmation at Trinity Episcopal church on Sunday morning, April 23rd, administering the same rite at Emmanuel church in the evening.

At the suggestion of the Rev. Robert C. Jeff, pastor of Emmanuel church, there will be no service about the chancel railings on Easter. Trinity church will, as has been the custom since Bishop Randolph became bishop of this diocese, be decorated with flowers, and a large selection of cuttings and blossoms arranged by its choir. The theme is: "Doubtless Buck's 'Christ, the Lord is risen,'" and "Christ, Our Passover," from Buck's Opus, 45; Mozart's Gloria and Jubilate; offertory, "Awake Thou That Sleepest, Gloria in Excelsis."

The choir is under the direction of Mr. Frank R. Webb, and is composed of Miss Mary Bots Berkeby and Nannie Cook, contraltos; Miss Fannie Tamm, soprano; Mr. J. Walker McMechen, tenor, and Mr. W. E. Ladd, bass.

Major Jeth Hitchens has given to the Stanton public school a cabinet of mineral specimens from his collection, which is a most extensive and valuable one. On Thursday Major Hitchens, accompanied by his son, John, and his wife, presented his collection to all the schools.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that the company at Monroe had disbanded. It was the company at Gaston.

One of the whales captured at Cape Lookout is 60 feet long, and is worth $2,000. A representative of the State Marine is now at Cape Lookout, and will photograph it.

Appleton has been made to the Governor for the organization of a military company in Ekin. The quartermaster-general was in Ekin in informing your correspondent that